Sherwood Forest, somewhere in England. Prince John has taken over Nottingham from his sister. All he wants is to have the best and shiniest golden bathtub in the world. With the help of the Sheriff, he starts collecting taxes from the villagers, leaving them poor and hungry. Robin Hood and her crew cannot stand to see the villagers suffer, so they plot to steal the money back. "We steal from the greedy to help the needy!" That's the motto of the outlaws. But will they succeed?
